COURSE ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION

Participation 10%

The participation grade is based on regular, polite, civil, respectful, and thoughtful participation in class. A student can earn one participation point per class so long as that participation makes a meaningful contribution and/or has the potential to generate further discussion.

Alternatively, if a student is unable to participate in a class, they may earn one participation point for that class by posting in the appropriate forum on the D2L site within 24 hours of that class ending. The post must be a short paragraph that states what the student takes to be the main/most interesting/most important point from the reading discussed in the class they were not able to participate in, and what they thought about that point.

The participation grade is determined by adding the participation points from eligible in-class and forum participation (up to a maximum of 10 points).
