Course Description:

This is a writing intensive course for majors in Philosophy. The course will consider preference-satisfaction and objective list theories of welfare, but the primary emphasis will be on clarifying and evaluating hedonistic theories of welfare.

Prerequisites:

Second year standing in Philosophy or Religious Studies and Applied Ethics

Course Learning Outcomes

- Knowledge of debates and arguments within contemporary literature on welfare
- In-depth knowledge of hedonism as a theory about the good life, including various ways in which hedonism might be adapted in reply to common objections
- Ability to accurately and charitably extract arguments from other authors' work
- Ability to evaluate arguments of other authors fairly
- Ability to construct convincing, original arguments in support of own theses
- Ability to communicate ideas and arguments orally and/or in writing (online) with other students, and respond to other students in a respectful, productive way.

Required/Recommended Texts (including electronic resources):

Feldman, Fred. 2010. Pleasure and the Good Life: Concerning the Nature, Varieties, and Plausibility of Hedonism (Oxford: OUP). Available in University Book Store and online through U of C library.

Course Assessment

Students will be graded on three (4-6 page) papers.

Paper One (Due Thursday, Oct. 12):	25 points
Paper Two (Due Thursday, Nov. 9):	35 points
Paper Three (Due Thursday, Dec. 7):	40 points

Grading Method

Grades will be calculated as follows:

96-100 = A+	80-84.9 = B+	65-69.9 = C+	53-54.9 = D+
90-95.9 = A	75-79.9 = B	60-64.9 = C	50-52.9 = D
85-89.9 = A-	70-74.9 = B-	55-59.9 = C-	< 50 = F

Course Policies:

Papers must be submitted in hard copy form. Emailed papers will not be accepted. Papers must be turned in on the day they are due. Late papers will lose 2 points per day they are late.

The instructor and teaching assistant for this course will mark all assignments without knowledge of the author's identity (so long as authors prepare papers for blind review as instructed, and turn in papers on time).

There will be no Registrar-scheduled final exam for this course. A student need not receive a passing mark on every assignment in order to pass the course.

IMPORTANT DEPARTMENTAL, FACULTY AND UNIVERSITY INFORMATION

Academic Honesty

Cheating or plagiarism on any assignment or examination is regarded as an extremely serious academic offense, the penalty for which may be an F on the assignment, an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw from the University. See the relevant sections on 'Academic Misconduct' in the current University Calendar. Intellectual honesty requires that your work include adequate referencing to sources. Plagiarism occurs when you do not acknowledge or correctly reference your sources. If you have questions about correct referencing, consult your instructor.

Academic Accommodation

The student accommodation policy can be found at: ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.

Students needing an Accommodation based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to their instructor.

Advice on Philosophy Courses

You may find answers to your more specific questions about a philosophy degree on the Department of Philosophy's website <http://phil.ucalgary.ca>, or contact one of Philosophy's Undergraduate Advisors. Jeremy Fantl (jfantl@ucalgary.ca), Allen Habib (anhabib@ucalgary.ca), Megan Delehanty (mdelehan@ucalgary.ca).

Registration Overload/Prereq Waivers

If you are seeking to register in a Philosophy course that is full or to get permission to waive the prereqs for a course, email the Department Manager, Tram Nguyen (tram.nguyen1@ucalgary.ca). Include the specific course information and your UCID number in your request.

Writing

This course will include written assignments. Faculty policy directs that all written assignments (including, although to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented. Students are also encouraged to use Writing Support Services and other Student Success Centre Services, located on the 3rd floor of the Taylor Family Digital Library. Writing Support Services assist with a variety of assignments, from essays to lab reports. Students can book 30-minute one-on-one appointments online, sign up for 15-minute drop-in appointments, and register for a variety of writing workshops. For more information on this and other Student Success Centre services, please visit www.ucalgary.ca/ssc.

Protection of Privacy

The University of Calgary is under the jurisdiction of the provincial Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. The Department of Philosophy ensures the student's right to privacy by requiring all graded assignments be returned to the student directly from the instructor or teaching assistant.

Internet and Electronic Communication Devices

The instructor reserves the right to establish course policies regarding the use of devices such as laptops, tablets, and smartbooks. If allowed, these devices must be used exclusively for instructional purposes and must not cause disruption to the instructor or to fellow students. Cell phones and paging devices should be set to silent mode during lectures. Audio or video recording of lectures is not permitted without the written permission of the instructor. Students violating this policy are subject to discipline under the University of Calgary's Non-Academic Misconduct policy

Emergency Evacuation:

In case of an emergency evacuation during class, students must gather at the designated assembly point nearest to the classroom. The list of assembly points is found at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/assemblypoints>. Please check this website and note the nearest assembly point for this course.
