COURSE OUTLINE

Instructor Name: Yosh Kobasigawa

Email: ykobasig@ucalgary.ca

Office Hours: Office hours will be held after lectures and by appointment

COURSE INFORMATION

The course covers topics such as Forms, physical substances, the self and intentionality. We will also examine Plato’s and Descartes’ views that certain Forms/Concepts are innate, and how this leads to their views about what it is to be a human being. To help think through these issues, I draw not only from the works Plato and Descartes, but also from the works of Berkeley, Hume, Frege, Russell, Armstrong, Ryle and Putnam. Lectures will occur over Zoom. These sessions will be recorded. For this course you will need access to required technology, such as a computer, webcam, microphone, and broadband internet connection.

PREREQUISITE(S)

Two previous courses in philosophy, at least one of which must be a 300 or higher level course and one of which must be 201 or 395; or consent of the Department.

COURSE OBJECTIVES/LEARNING OUTCOMES

This course aims to develop the capacity to carefully evaluate metaphysical theories. As part of this process students will be given the opportunity to develop their ability to produce clear written summaries of positions and arguments proposed by these theorists and to produce thoughtful assessments of these proposals

REQUIRED READINGS

Readings will be indicated via the D2L site for this class.
