Office Hours: TR 1:50 – 2:50

Course Description

It is widely believed that moral responsibility requires freedom. A far less discussed view to be explored in this seminar is that obligation requires freedom. If obligation requires freedom, is this freedom compatible or incompatible with determinism?

Prerequisites:

Two previous courses in philosophy at least one of which must be at the 400 level and one of which must be one of Philosophy 201, 395, 421, 423, 461, 463, 467, 481, or 483.

Course Learning Outcomes

Students should be able to

1. Explain key concepts concerning free action and obligation.
2. Critically analyze philosophical texts on free action and obligation.
3. Acquire in depth knowledge of the freedom requirements of obligation.
4. Write a convincing argument for or against fundamental issues to be discussed concerning free action and obligation.
5. Engage in constructive oral argumentation regarding relevant concepts, principles, or theories introduced in the course.

Required Texts (including electronic resources)

Students will be supplied with a list of papers. Each of these papers is available online in journals or in other venues to which our University Library subscribes.

Course Assessment

(1) Three 5-page final papers, each worth 30% of the final grade. Writing and the grading thereof is a factor in evaluation. Writing should be clear, coherent, and to the point.

(2) Three Rough Drafts: For each paper you will write a one-page draft. At least one of your classmates and I will review this draft. Some of you may have your drafts workshopped by the class as a whole. These drafts are not graded, although a missing draft will reduce the grade of your final corresponding paper. (See the policy on late assignments below.)

Tentative Assignment Dates:

First draft paper: Thursday, October 5

First final paper: Thursday, October 12

Second draft paper: Thursday, October 26

Second final paper: Thursday, November 2

Third draft paper: Thursday, November 30

Third final paper: Thursday, December 7

(3) Seminar participation worth 10% of the final grade: You are expected to be an active participant in seminar discussions. Read the course material and have questions and comments ready. You cannot participate if you are not present. You are allowed naught (0) unexcused absences. For each unexcused absence, your grade for the next final paper that is due will be reduced by one full letter grade.

(4) There will be no Registrar-scheduled final exam.

(5) There will be no provisions for "extra-credit." A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not required for a pass in the course as a whole.

Grading Method:

Each paper will be assigned a letter grade. You will also receive a letter grade for your participation. Your overall grade for the course will be an average of your letter grades on your papers and participation. Letter grades will be averaged by using the following scheme.

Conversion of Number Grades into Letter Grades:

A+ = 100-96; A = 95-90; A- = 89-85; B+ = 84-80; B = 79-75; B- = 74-71; C+ = 70-67; C = 66-62; C- = 61-59; D+ = 58-54; D = 53-50; F = 49-0.

Late or Missing Assignments:

No unexcused late final essays or drafts will be accepted without official and adequate documentation. Missing final essays will receive an "F" (a numerical score of zero). Each missing draft essay will reduce the grade of the final corresponding essay by two whole letter grades.

IMPORTANT DEPARTMENTAL, FACULTY AND UNIVERSITY INFORMATION

Academic Honesty

Cheating or plagiarism on any assignment or examination is regarded as an extremely serious academic offense, the penalty for which may be an F on the assignment, an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw from the University. See the relevant sections on 'Academic Misconduct' in the current University Calendar. Intellectual honesty requires that your work include adequate referencing to sources. Plagiarism occurs when you do not acknowledge or correctly reference your sources. If you have questions about correct referencing, consult your instructor.

Academic Accommodation

The student accommodation policy can be found at: ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.

Students needing an Accommodation based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to their instructor.

Advice on Philosophy Courses

You may find answers to your more specific questions about a philosophy degree on the Department of Philosophy's website <http://phil.ucalgary.ca>, or contact one of Philosophy's Undergraduate Advisors. Jeremy Fantl (ifantl@ucalgary.ca), Allen Habib (anhabib@ucalgary.ca), Megan Delehanty (mdelehan@ucalgary.ca).

Registration Overload/Prereq Waivers

If you are seeking to register in a Philosophy course that is full or to get permission to waive the prereqs for a course, email the Department Manager, Tram Nguyen (tram.nguyen1@ucalgary.ca). Include the specific course information and your UCID number in your request.

Writing

This course will include written assignments. Faculty policy directs that all written assignments (including, although to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented. Students are also encouraged to use Writing Support Services and other Student Success Centre Services, located on the 3rd floor of the Taylor Family Digital Library. Writing Support Services assist with a variety of assignments, from essays to lab reports. Students can book 30-minute one-on-one appointments online, sign up for 15-minute drop-in appointments, and register for a variety of writing workshops. For more information on this and other Student Success Centre services, please visit www.ucalgary.ca/ssc.

Protection of Privacy

The University of Calgary is under the jurisdiction of the provincial Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. The Department of Philosophy ensures the student's right to privacy by requiring all graded assignments be returned to the student directly from the instructor or teaching assistant.

Internet and Electronic Communication Devices

The instructor reserves the right to establish course policies regarding the use of devices such as laptops, tablets, and smartbooks. If allowed, these devices must be used exclusively for instructional purposes and must not cause disruption to the instructor or to fellow students. Cell phones and paging devices should be set to silent mode during lectures. Audio or video recording of lectures is not permitted without the written permission of the instructor. Students violating this policy are subject to discipline under the University of Calgary's Non-Academic Misconduct policy

Emergency Evacuation:

In case of an emergency evacuation during class, students must gather at the designated assembly point nearest to the classroom. The list of assembly points is found at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/assemblypoints>. Please check this website and note the nearest assembly point for this course.
